PRAEFATIO.

HUJUSCE operis initia eis jam patefacta sunt, quorum in manus
quibus in praesenti, bona tua venia, L. B., velim haec excerptam.

Many years ago the late Philip Edward Pusey, son of the well-known Professor of Hebrew in the University of Oxford, began to collate ancient MSS. of the Peshitto, in order to test the accuracy of the printed Text, and to collect materials for a revision of it. The object of his researches was to discover whether the traditional text, first published by Widmanstadt, and reproduced with little variation by subsequent editors, might reasonably be considered to represent that of the ancient Syriac Church. In pursuit of this design he made careful collations of a large number of MSS., for the most part very ancient and valuable copies: some he collated throughout, others he examined in important passages. After his death, his collations were continued by the present writer; and while the work has progressed somewhat slowly, for various reasons, the critical materials have increased in amount, and the plan of the work has outgrown Pusey's original design.

The labours of my predecessor and of myself have resulted in certain definite conclusions. We have discovered the answer to the inquiry which suggested these researches. We have found that the text of the Editio Princeps of 1555 is almost identical with that current at the time when our MSS. were written.

The Peshitto Gospels; Specimen of a New Edition. Presented to the Congress of Orientalists at the Session in Paris, 1897.

We can demonstrate that the Peshitto Version of the Gospels has not been corrupted in later times; but, on the contrary, that whatsoever variations it exhibits from the Greek, date from a most remote antiquity. Our authorities are products of both the great schools of Syriac Christianity, while our most ancient copies connect our readings with those of the undivided Syriac Church.

But while the collations made tend chiefly to the support of the traditional text of the Peshitto, in a certain number of passages we are able to correct it, where the MSS. used by Widmanstadt were apparently defective or corrupted. In these places the results of our collations are highly satisfactory; for it is found that the ancient codices, and of both schools, agree so remarkably, that seldom is the true reading left doubtful.

The attention of the reader is specially invited to the following particulars of the work:—

1. The Text is based on the evidence of a large number of MSS., of various ages and different localities. They range from copies of the fifth century, which would seem to represent the Gospels of the undivided Syriac Church, to such a distinctly Jacobite copy as Lord Crawford's MS., written in Tur'abdin in the twelfth century. They include the Nestorian MS. in the British Museum, dated A.D. 600, and the Nestorian Massora. By comparison of the evidence of the two classes, it will be seen whether the Text was modified by either branch of the Syriac Church. We adduce forty-one MSS. in all<sup>1</sup>; but some of these are fragmentary, others have been collated only in parts. Account has also been taken of the edition published by the American mission to the Christians of Urmia, which is stated to have been revised from a very ancient Nestorian copy. There are in the British Museum and abroad other codices, as yet uncollated, perhaps little inferior in value to some already examined; but the evidence of these could not modify in any essential particulars the deliberate conclusions at which we have arrived.

2. The vowel system depends directly on the evidence of the Jacobite Massoretic MSS. In the Notes are included many of the readings of these hitherto unpublished works, and copious quotations from the copy of the Nestorian Massora.

3. The Text is broken into paragraphs in accordance with the evidence of the most ancient MSS. These are often interesting, as showing the opinions of ancient scribes on the connexion of parts of the narrative. The larger Sections (ḥāmāṣ) are regularly marked in the margins.

4. The Syriac system of Sections and Canons is now, for the first time, published in full, being indicated throughout the Gospels, with the Tables of Harmonies at the foot of each column of Text<sup>1</sup>.

5. The Latin has been added for the convenience of theologians who do not read Syriac. It is not put forth as the best and certain rendering in all the more difficult passages.

The ultimate aim of our work is to exhibit the Peshitto Gospels as they were read, on the evidence of the MSS., in the ancient Syriac Church. Incidentally we have collected and tabulated details of interest to the grammarian and the lexicographer. It has not been our concern to deal with the relation of our Text to the Curetonian and the Lewis Texts; but in determining the form of the Peshitto Text in early times, we have made a definite advance in the history of the Peshitto Version.

In his quae suscepseram perficiendis, vereor ne tarditatis crimen videar subiisse. Hanc equidem non doleo, utpote quae amplificandae rerum criticarum copiae occasionem nobis dederit. Tetraeuangelii Vaticani, quod primi editionis hujus causa Ignazio Guidi et Mariano Ugolini excusserunt, neconon Berolini, quod primus Ed. Sachau contulit, Massorae etiam Peshittonianae adhuc paene ignotae lectionibus additis, cum aliis aliunde conquisitis, nunc demum Deo favente atque amicorum ope consilioque adjutus, opus summa cura retractatum studiosis harum rerum offerre possum. Textus Syriaci verba ad fidem testium multorum, eorumque et bonae notae et magnae vetustatis, recensui. Literas consonantes, quae in codicibus antiquis vocalium notis carent, Graecis vocalium formis instruxi, quippe quibus Syri Occidentales utantur, ex auctoritate Massorae et Editorum et Grammaticorum. Duplex literarum beth et ceterarum sonus (Rucaca et Kushaia) per puncta tenuissima indicatus est. Varietates permulta, quarum aliae ad sententiam spectant, aliae ad verba, aliae ad appellationem literarum vocaliumque sermonis Nestoriani propriam, in imas paginas digestae sunt. Versionem Latinam a Schaaflio ex omnibus, imprimis Tremelliana, quae princeps fuit, compositam, nunc mea opera emendatam ad hujus editionis textum accommodavi. Quamvis locos alios aliter Latine reddiderim, semper tamen verbum e verbo, prout fieri potuit, exprimere studui.

Vereor, L. B., ne menda nonnulla tum typographica, tum alia, hoc in libro invenias, quamquam paginas pro viribus recensui. Multa tu facile potes corrigere, et omnia te mihi in opere tam diffici, perque tot annos tracto, ignoturum confido.

Desideratissimus ille Edwardus Bouverie Pusey, linguae Hebraicae et sacrae Theologiae eruditissimus, hunc librum, filii pii monumento ut esset, se prelo subjectum pollicitus erat; qui quum nobis decessisset, lectionum supellectilem augendam et textum edendum impensis suis suscepserunt Preli Academicci Delegati, quorum munificentiam grato animo commemoro. Benevolentiam, quam viri eruditi C. Bezold, Ig. Guidi, G. Margoliouth, E. Sachau, B. Teloni, quam Edwardus Miller, Prebendarius Cicestriensis, quam J. F. Stenning, Collegii Wadhami Socius, quam O. J. Vignoles e Collegio Aenei Nasi, erga me habuerunt, silentio praeterire non decet, neque immemor sum acris curae diligentiaeque, quas J. C. Pembrey, Corrector plagularum, in has a prima ad ultimam impendit. His aliisque omnibus, qui mihi hoc in opere adjumento fuerunt, gratias ago gratissimus.

PISTOLA QUAM SCRIPSIT EUSEBIUS AD CARPIANUM
DE EXPLICATIONE CANONUM QUOS FECIT.

Eusebius Carpiano fratri et dilecto meo in Domino nostro, Salutem !

Ammonius Alexandrinus, multam, ut videtur, industriam, et amorem laboris multum huic [operi] intulit, et Euangelium Diatessaron nobis reliquit. Curam enim posuit magnam in Euangilio Mattaii ; et sectionum, quae restabant, Euangelistarum trium socrorum ejus eas comparavit, quae concinunt inter se, secuit et hoc modo collocavit, ita ut accideret, quod ex coactu, [ut] perderetur nexus ordinatorum verborum Euangelistarum ex composita [verborum] eorum lectione per id ipsum quod fecit. Itaque, ut conservetur corpus totum completum plene, neenon ordo verborum Euangelistarum quatuor, atque ut tu cognoscas loca verborum Illorum, ubique inter se concinuerint, tibi sunt numeri inscripti, super Euangelistas singulos, in locis idoneis : ut amicus veritatis fateor, nos a labore viri illius, quem supra diximus, occasionem nactos esse ; et alia ratione decem Canones tibi designavi, qui infra describuntur.

Canon primus, in eo insunt numeri [locorum] ubi multa conjuncte quatuor Euangelistae dixerunt, et concinuerunt inter se, Mattai, Markos, Luka, Juchanan.

15 Canon secundus : ubi tres concinuerunt inter se, Mattai, Markos, Luka.

Canon tertius : ubi iterum tres sibi concinuerunt inter se, Mattai, Luka, Juchanan.

Canon quartus : ubi iterum tres concinuerunt inter se, Mattai, Markos, Juchanan.

Canon quintus : ubi duo concinuerunt inter se, Mattai, Luka.

Canon sextus : ubi iterum duo concinuerunt inter se, Mattai, Markos.

20 Canon septimus : ubi iterum duo concinuerunt inter se, Mattai, Juchanan.

Canon octavus : ubi duo iterum concinuerunt inter se, Markos, Luka.

Canon nonus : ubi duo iterum concinuerunt inter se, Luka, Juchanan.

Canon decimus : ubi unusquisque ex Euangelistis quatuor singulatim, de rebus diversis, ipse solus scripsit, Mattai, Markos, Luka, Juchanan.

25 Ita se habet res Canonum ; eorum autem clara expositio haec est :—In unoquoque e quatuor Euangelistis numeri ponuntur in ordinem ; ab uno incipit, et duobus, et tribus, et usque procedit ipse numerus, per totum Euangeliū, ad finem libri. Et uniuersus e numeris subest signum Canonis minutum : et hoc indicat apud quem e decem Canonibus sit hic numerus ; et ita 30 quidem, quasi dicat aliquis, [i. e. exempli gratia] si unum significet, cognoscatur Canoni inesse primo; et si duo, cognoscatur Canoni [inesse] secundo; et si tres, Canoni tertio: ad hunc modum usque [exitum] decem Canonum.

Si igitur evolvas unum e quatuor Euangelistis, et sumas tibi prima [capituli] verba, undecunque placeat; ut cognoscas quis ex Euangelistis 35 eadem verba dixerit, utrum quatuor, an tres, an duo; atque ut cognoscas loca verborum Illorum, in quibus concinuerint inter se: sume numerum Canonis miniatum, quem ante te habes, ad signum [capituli] quod sumpsisti; et recurrens ad numeros qui in principio libri jacent, intra columnas parvas, et quaerens eundem in eo Canone quem signum miniatum tibi ostendit, et ibi inveniens numeros inscriptos [quibus significatur] quis 40 aut quam multi ex Euangelistis dixerint de eo [loco] cuius signum habes: deinde statim disces qui sint numeri principii [capituli] quod quaeris, ex eis numeris qui inscripti sunt, intra librum ipsum in margine foliorum. Et quum institeris enumerationi versuum simul cum Canonibus eorum, invenies Euangelistas illos quatuor, in verbis suis concinentes inter se, Mattai, Markos, Luka, Juchanan.

Itaque hi numeri apponuntur ne verba Euangelistarum quatuor abscindantur a verbis sequentibus, nec perdatur nexus ordinis eorum; tantum ut numeri moveantur, alias in alium, quibus indicetur Euangelistas concinere inter se, et perstet lectio ordinis verborum quatuor Illorum integra, qui sunt hi Mattai, Markos, Luka, Juchanan.
